A few hours of homecoming festivities are shared together by Donna Schreiner and her escort, Willie Crisp.

Varied expressions are shown on the faces of Dragon Varsity basketball players as Coach Baker calls time.

School life revolved around books and classrooms, but assemblies also gained eager participation from the student body.

Linda Curry was a very attractive mark as John Pestello took advantage of the mistletoe.

One of the illusions of life is that the present hour is not the critical, decisive hour. Write it in your heart that every day is the best day of the year. He only is rich who owns the day, and no one owns the day who allows it to be invaded with worry, fret and anxiety. Finish every day, and be done with it. You have done what you could.

Feet tell an interesting story, often revealing personalities better than faces!

A happy expression is revealed by the wide smile of Tony Salazar as school is let out for another day.

Bobbie Coker, a smiling library assistant, aids in the filing of materials.

Randall Cooley makes his appearance as he is ready for cheerleading in the powderpuff game.

Cherie Holden takes a minute away from her position in the Junior-Senior Powderpuff Game.

Yesterday is only a dream, tomorrow only a vision, but today—today we live! Our yesterdays will be dreams of happiness, but our tomorrows will be visions of hope.

special moments that were the Alfred Guidry changes his every day routine on "Slave Day," as Roger Huizar joins in the action.

Dances were another part of student activities made available to all high school students.

Layouts need to be done, and Elaine Abel and Debbie Rienti are eager to start.

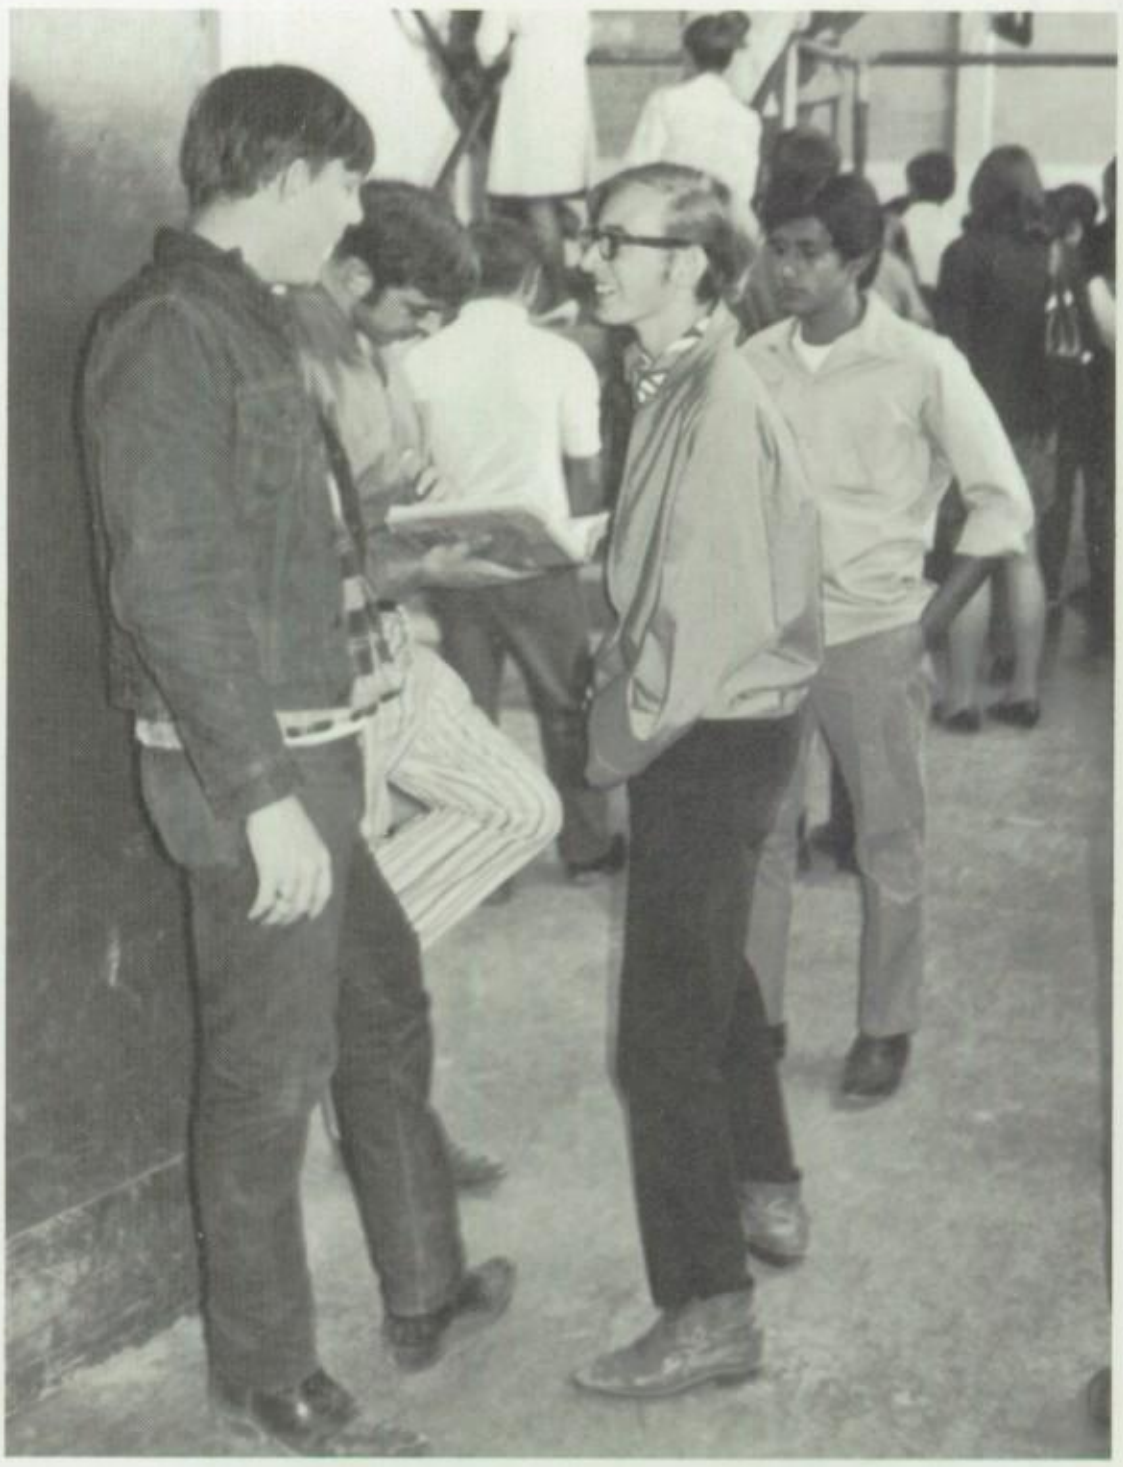
Slave Day was quite a day—especially for Gordon Deskin.

Linda Chilton checks out a book for research in the library.



Steve Broyles and Ray Franks hold a conversation during an assembly period.

Some of the best times do not occur when we are enjoying life, but when those who are our friends are experiencing happiness.

Teresa Williams and Susan Powell find lunch is enjoyable when shared out of a paper sack.

Christmas spirit was a big part of student life before the new year greeted us with 1971.

Annual staff members, Liz Crum, Nita Williams, and Gerry Kolody, attend a workshop at the El Tropicano.

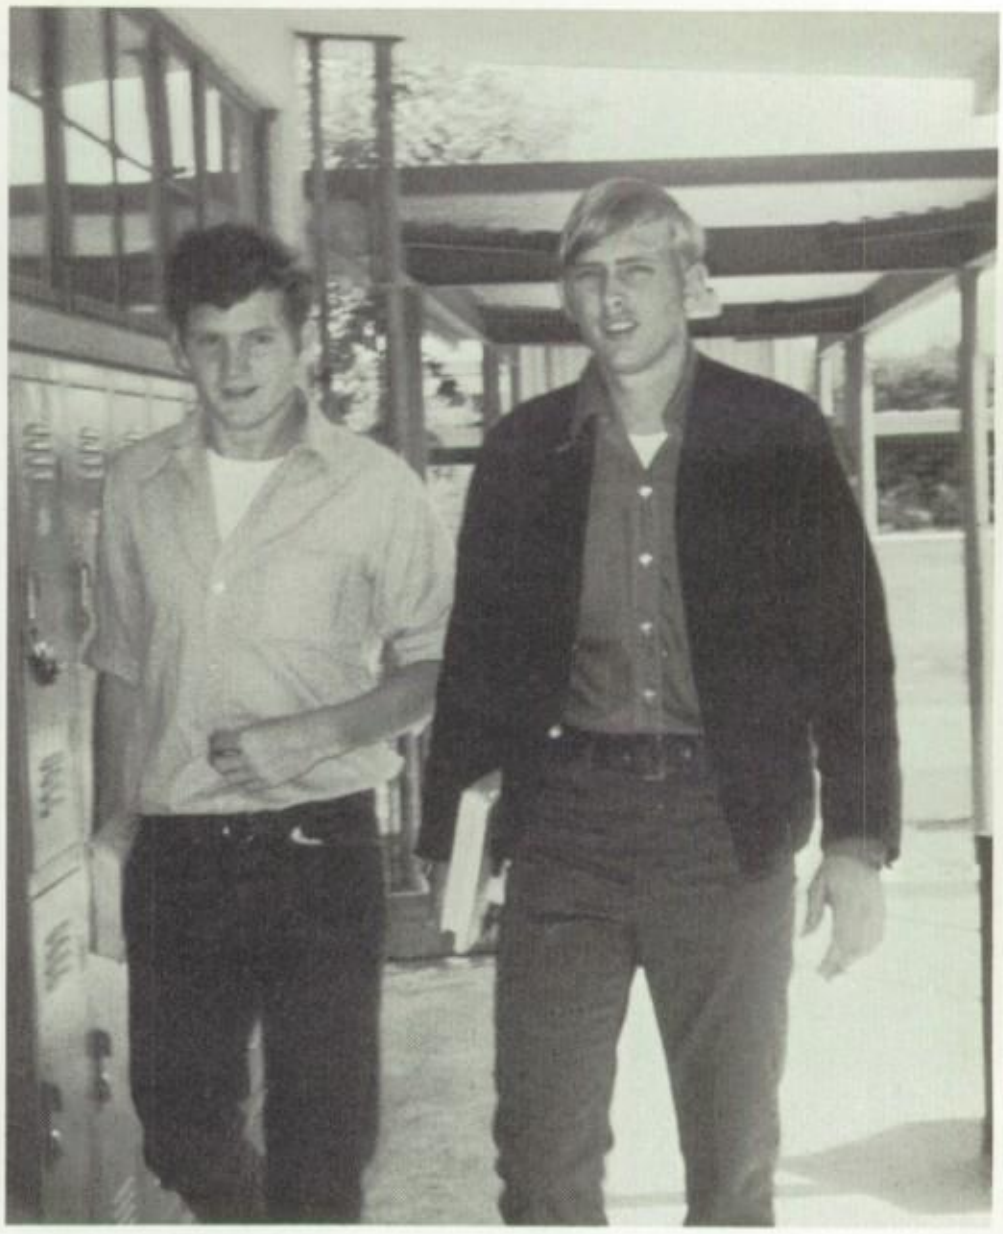
Whether it is success or failure, or wavering in the middle of the mood, we are where we are because of other people. It is how we take life, what we expect, how we do our daily tasks, where we place our values that makes the difference.

Members of the stage band perform in their first appearance for the high school.

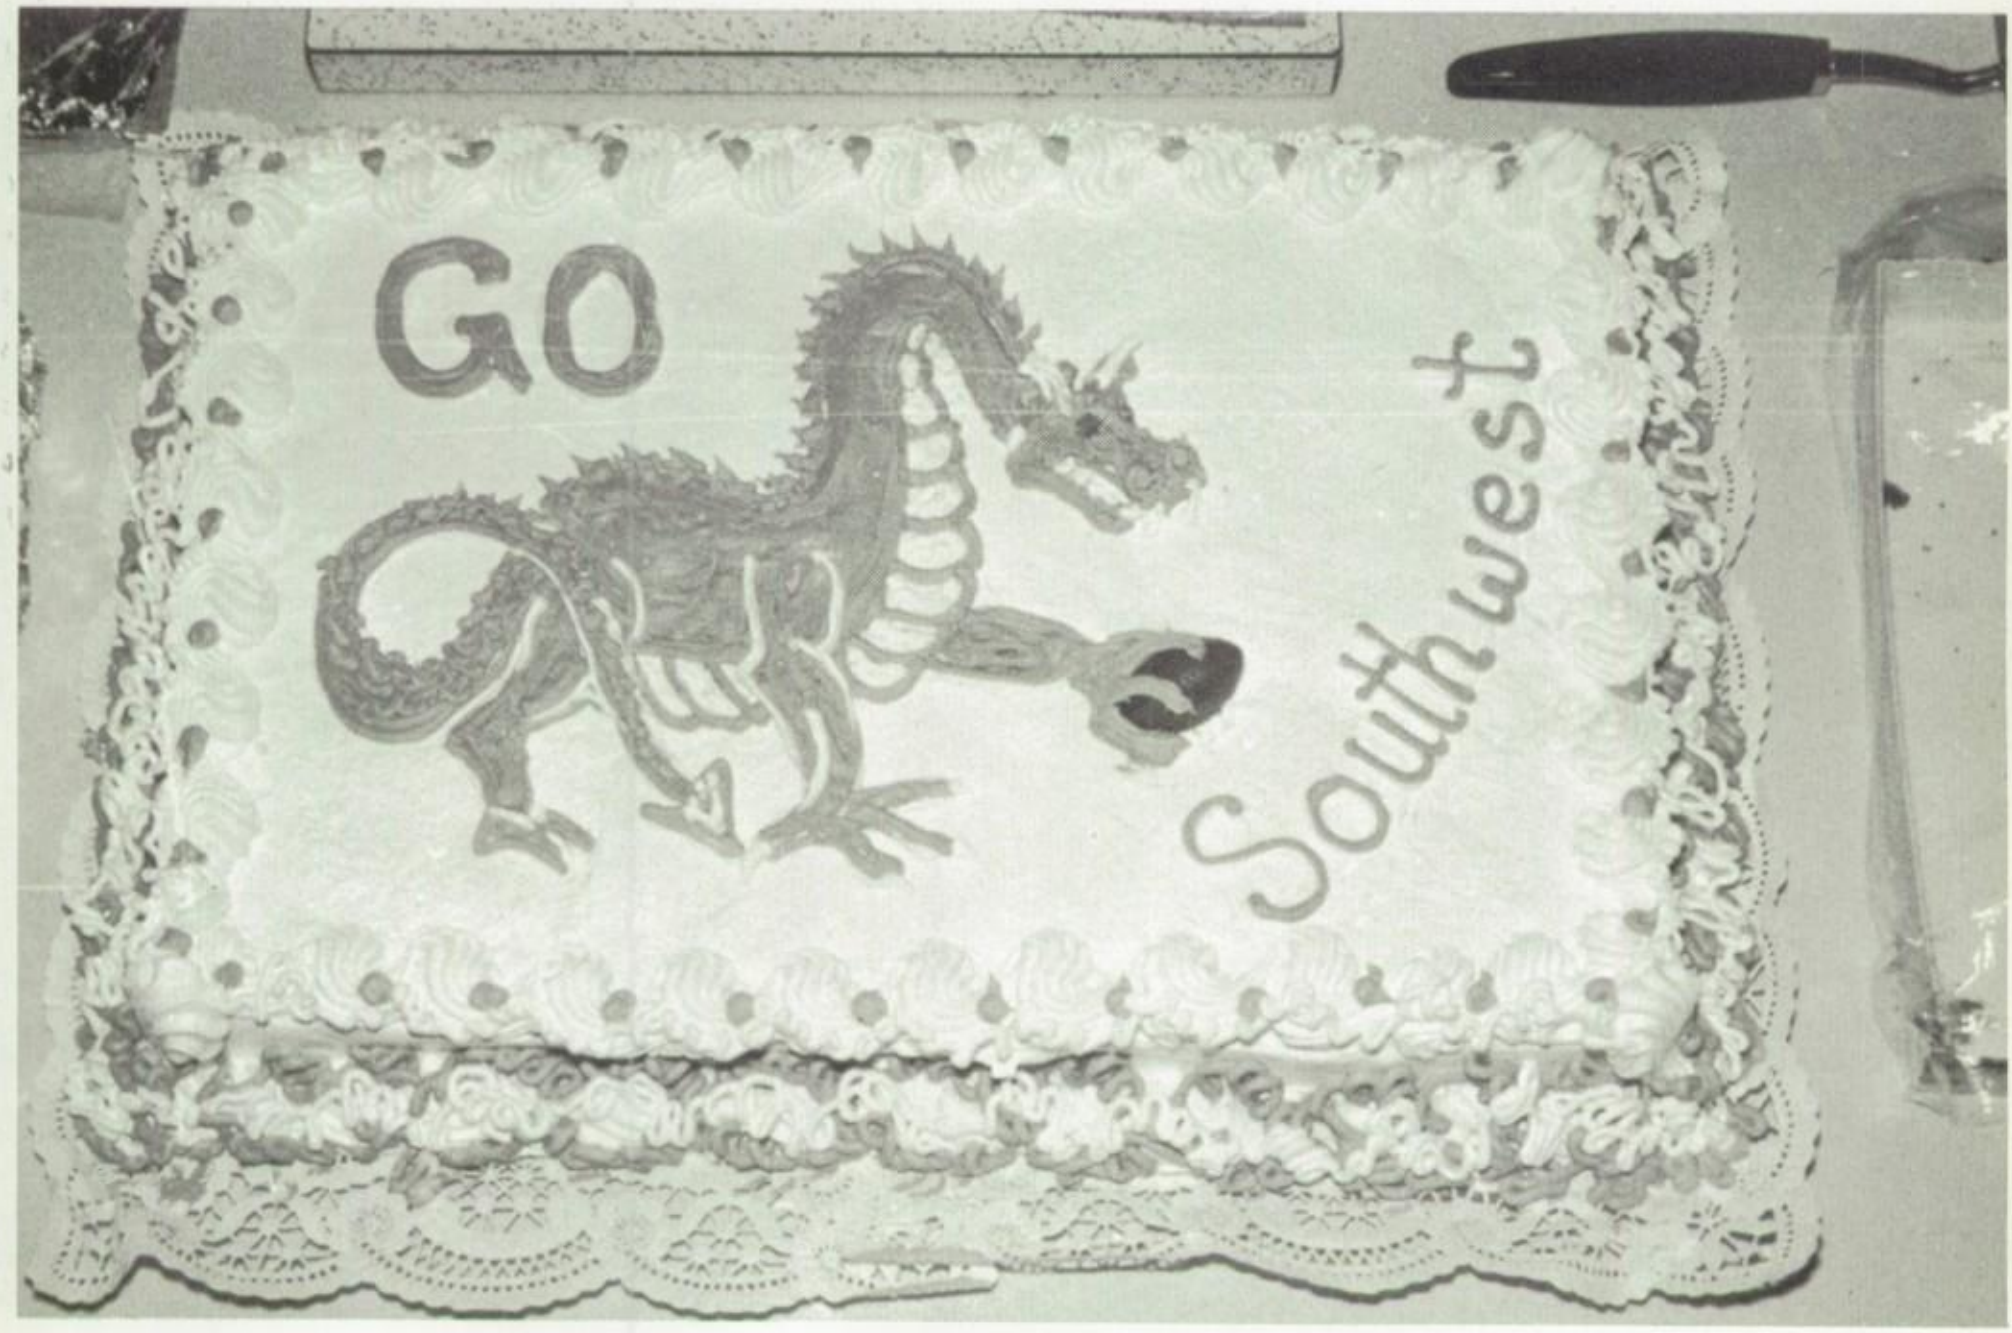
Debbie Chester uses her fur coat to warm up in the gym.

Liz Crum, senior layout editor for the Dragonniere, is shown in a rare moment of relaxation.

Sharlene Dubose—athletics is her forte.



Skeeter Cotham and Gorden Deskin hurry to World History after the last bell has rung.



Preparations for homecoming festivities took plenty of time and effort for those who participated in the special events.

Students gathering outside the cafeteria talking about old times include Linda Curry and Danny Danklef.

Camille Uresti and Steve Lessing make their way down the hall to the cafeteria.

The satisfaction of a job well done, the companionship of good friends with whom we share the brighter side, and the ones who understand even in our darkest moods are all good.

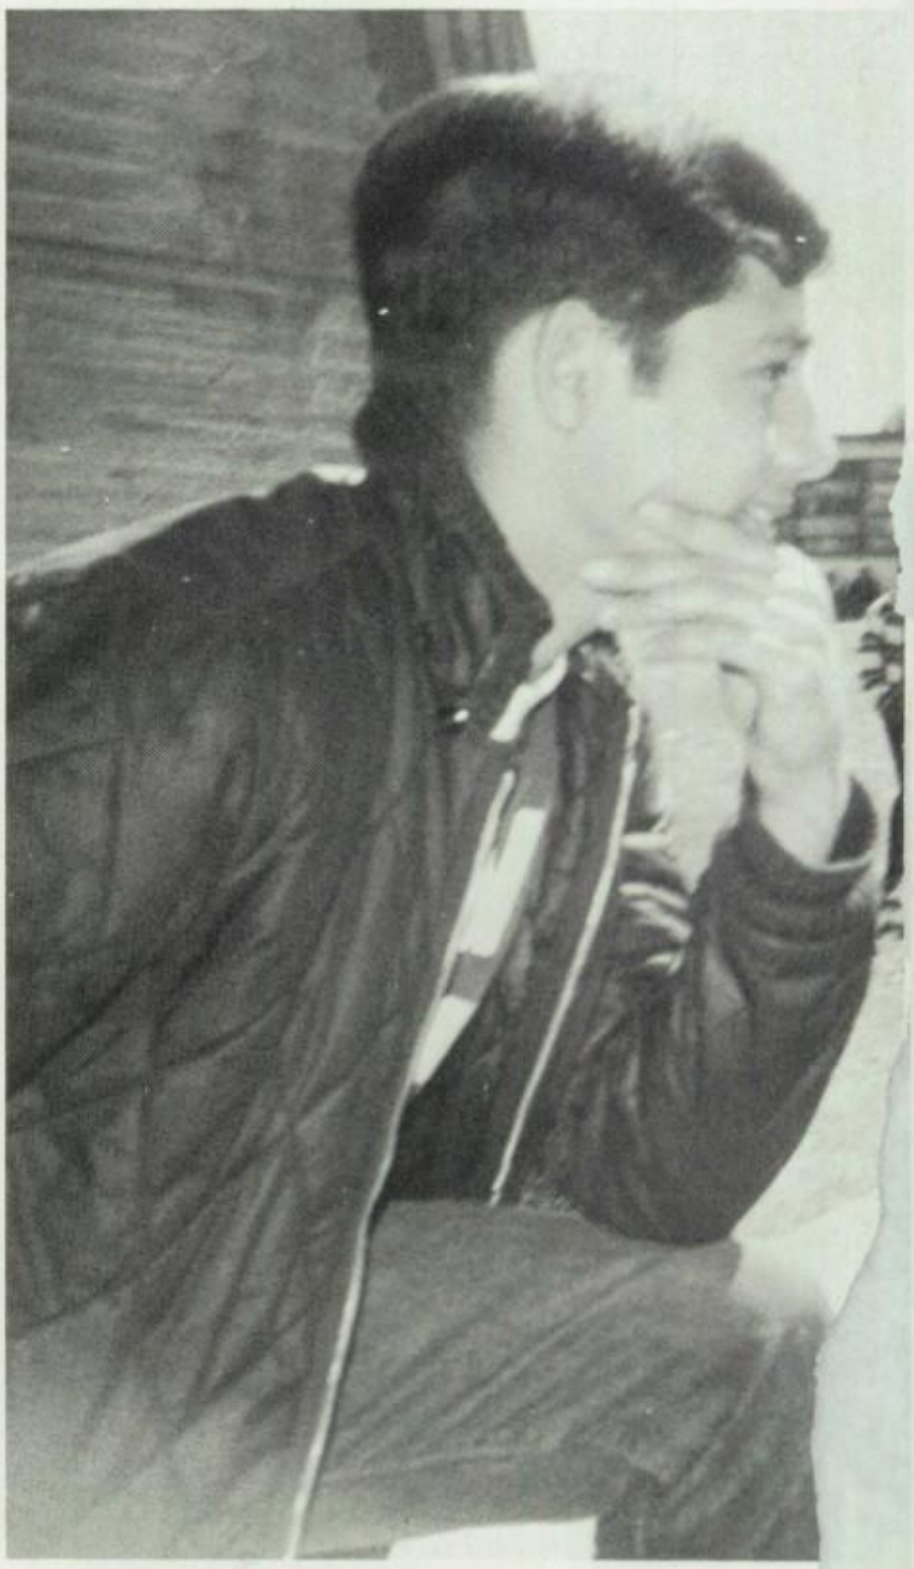
Senior Powderpuff cheerleaders, Anthony Otremba, John Pestello and Albert Ludwig make their contribution of spirit at the pep rally.

Slave day brought fun to brother and sister combination, Velma and Skeeter Cotham.



Junior—Thomas Menchaca, was selected as Junio Class Favorite for 1970-1971.

We want to go forward, try new things, meet new people, visit other places; yet, how good it is to recall familiar by-gones and remember loving faces and happy times.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

DISTRICT
SUPERINTENDENT

MR. BENNIE F.
STEINHAUSER

Culminating twenty years of service in the teaching profession, Mr. Bennie F. Steinhauser, Superintendent, has served in the Southwest Independent School District two years. Following a successful bond issue, he authorized plans for construction of two new elementary schools, additions to the high school, and a proposed stadium for the district to prepare for the expected increased enrollment. Working closely with him was an efficient back-up crew of principals and other administrative officers with a budget of $1,392,824.00.

With a Master's Degree from Trinity University, Mr. Steinhauser is pursuing his doctorate in Plant Management from Texas University. He is affiliated with many professional organizations, holding life membership in TSTA, a member of Alpha Chi, honor scholastic society, membership in Texas Association of School Administrators, American Association of School Administrators, member of NEA and Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers. An administrator of high qualification, Mr. Steinhauser selected personnel for the district with astute aptitude and exhibited wide interest in all school activities.

Meeting regularly once a month, often more frequently, seven concerned citizens served as members of the Board of Trustees.

In addition to making plans for new construction of school buildings, the board adopted and approved a new set of curriculum guides for the district.

These Trustees became members of the Texas Association of School Boards and the Bexar County Federation of School Boards. Officers for the year 1970-71, were: President, Mr. R. C. Aldridge, Jr.; Vice-President, Mr. J. W. Watts, Jr.; Secretary, Mr. A. V. Thurman.

Mr. Steinhauser conferred with Mr. Aldridge on proposed improvements for the district.

Miss Velma Lane, Office Secretary

Office personnel in the Superintendent's office have a range of duties which encompass activities which are endless in variety. From arranging and guarding appointments for the Superintendent, to keeping track of all budgetary accounts, these secretaries write endless correspondence, orders for merchandise, purchasing equipment, and keeping smiles on their faces and cheerful telephone voices. Their competence helped keep school business on an even keel.

Chemistry teacher, counselor, advisor, honorary coach, math teacher, Rattler, friend, and liaison between students and the district administration, this is PRINCIPAL, KENNETH LYSSY.

Quick to approve most worth-while projects, he was well received for his wit which popped up in faculty meetings, conferences, classrooms, and pep rallies.

Father of four boys, dwarfed beside him at football games, or sitting behind Dad's big desk writing memos, the students and faculty found entertaining the sight of this 6' 2 giant, loping along the halls with his little boys finding it hard to match the size of his footsteps.

The podium during assembly periods afforded Mr. Lyssy the opportunity to make his plans vocal to the student body.

Armed with prestige, power and paddle, VICE-PRINCIPAL, COL. A. D. HALL, was responsible for the smooth operation of the high school and its participating principals.

Teachers and students found an interested, appreciative listener in the office of the Vice-Principal. His spirit of cooperation was contagious, and the school operated on an efficient, well organized basis.

His efforts to find feasible solutions to the dilemmas facing youth today occupied much of the Colonel's time.

Keith Sullivan and Joe Fuller present Col. Hall with a gift from appreciative students in his classes.

Each facet of student life was supervised by Mrs. Carol McDonald, Counselor and Dean of Girls, who spent much time on scholarship awards, National Honor Society, and scheduling of classes. Meanwhile, her office became a haven for students with problems both personal and curriculum in aspect.

Perhaps, the best person to understand the maze of course selection, her warm, pleasing personality reflected a depth of feeling for all students and the problems related to their school activities.

ACADEMICS

FFA–FHA Correlated Programs

Mr. William Acton, FFA instructor, showed FHA girls, Christine Lewis, Cynthia Alvarado and Cindy Schreiner, component parts of an engine motor.

George Carlin, Robert Hardcastle, Mr. Pete Adams, instructor, Arthur Grajeda, Thomas Menchaca, and Nick Constanzo prepare for trip to farm.

Sometimes moving at a fast pace, the department heads sponsored joint dances, bar-b-ques and banquets.

The girls in the department helped with teas, dinners and receptions held in the homemaking department, serving and planning menus.

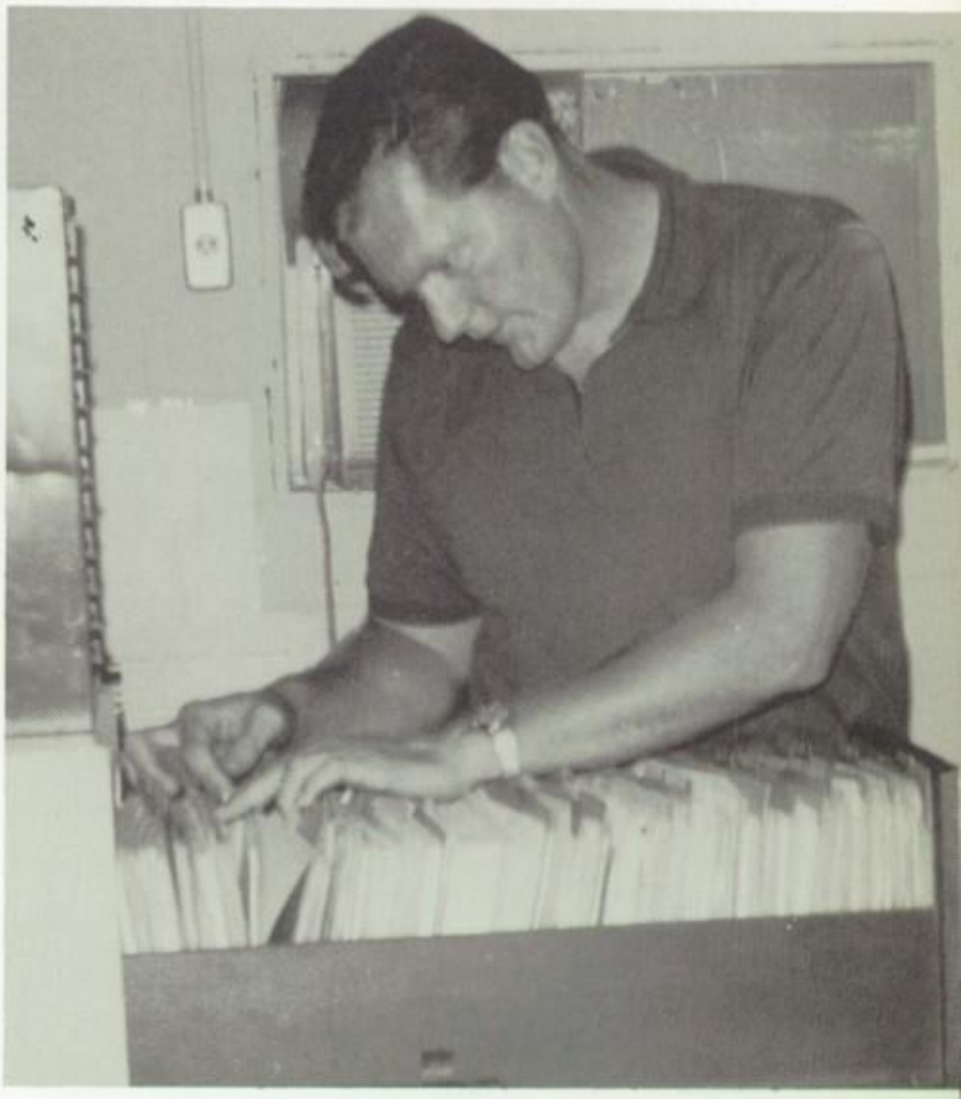
Competition was keen in the Ag field, as boys competed in skill groups, raising livestock, building farm skills, and making sure their parliamentary procedures were up to par. Donald Crisp and Ben Perez were chosen Beau of the Alpha and Beta Homemaking Clubs.

FHA instructors, Mrs. Anne Kellogg, Mrs. Sharon Collums, Mrs. Carolyn Mayo, served as sponsors for the Alpha and Beta Clubs in Homemaking.

Health Education—Vital Part of Curriculum

Mr. Franklin Smith, Instructor for Drivers' Education, returned from trial run with Monique Gallant and other students.

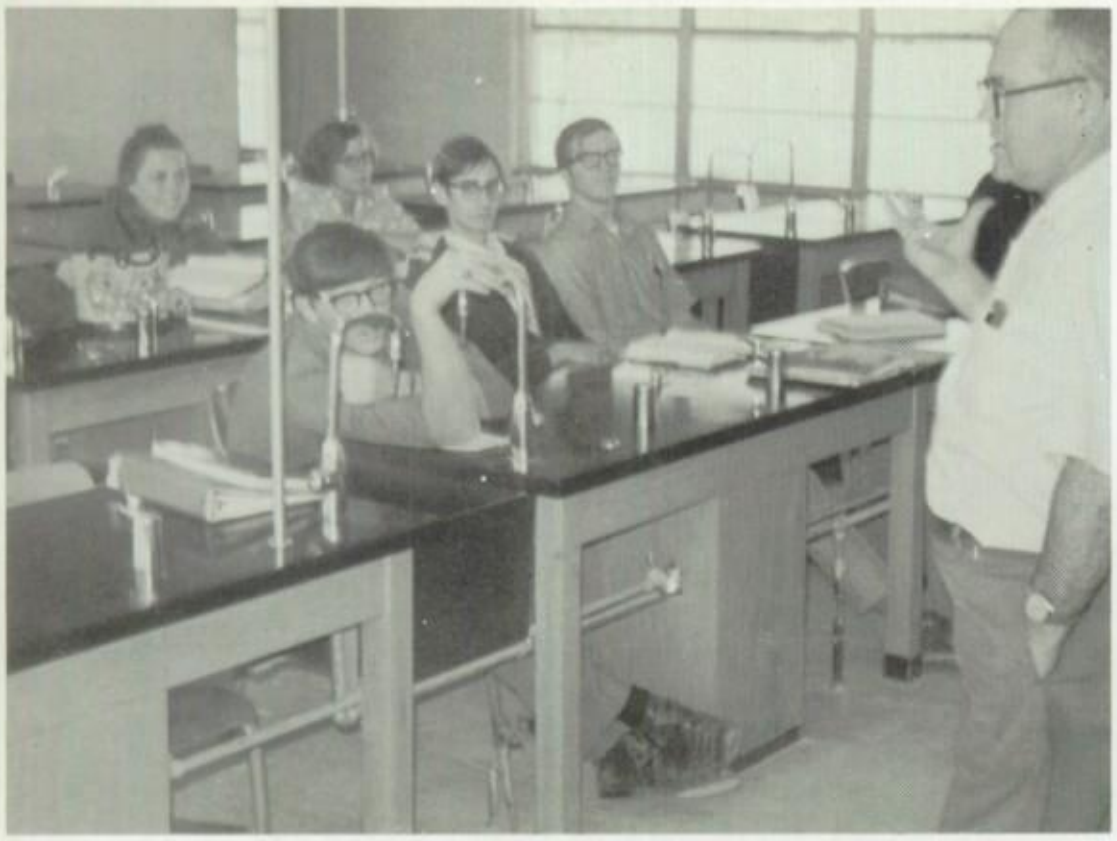
Stressing physical fitness, instructors directed exercises, games and the weekly gym suit washing. Girls played games including all major sports and, also, dance routines. On the other end of the gym, boys participated in football, basketball, volleyball, track, baseball, soccer, gymnastics and calesthentics—all of which contributed greatly to the development of muscle.



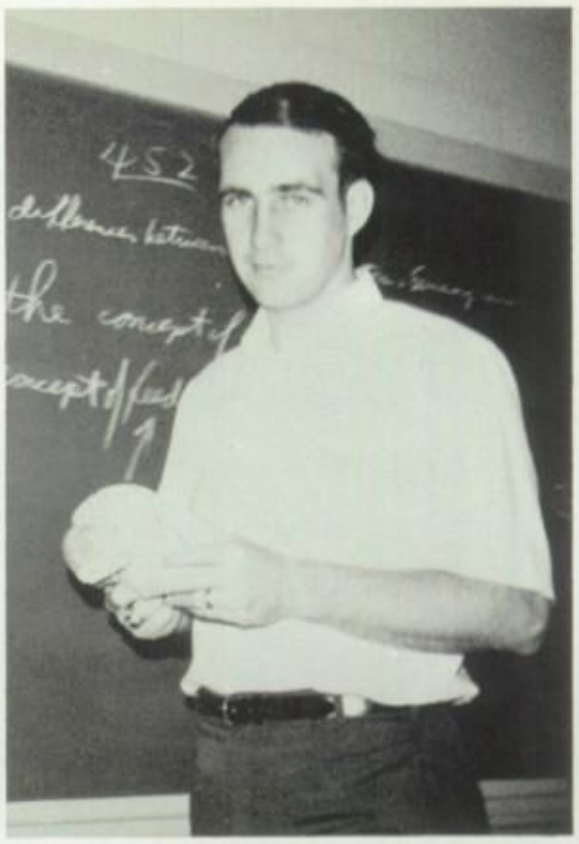
Mr. Bill Brown, Physical Education Director, kept files on all students, relative to physical fitness.

Mrs. Linda Krueger, Physical Education instructor for girls, had a philosophical expression as she watched try-outs.

Nick Constanzo, Charlie Guzman, Pat McKinney, Barry Feriend, Charlie Squires, and Hector Ruiz line up for free-throw.



Mr. Irving Leather, Physics instructor, discussed experiment with class.



Biology came alive under teaching of Mr. Richard Paxton.

Science Study Resulted in Enrichment of the Mind

Science and math classes seek to give the student an understanding of himself, of his cultural and religious heritage, of the world and the universe in which he lives, and the complex relations that exist among men in society.

Goals attained here were enrichment of the mind, development of intellect, independence gained, curiosity satisfied, and the knowledge of moral and ethical values reflected in human progress illustrated for the student.

Advanced math brought smile to face of Mrs. Scott. Anthony Otremba and Ann Smith share the experience.

Mr. David Gruell took time to work out the math problem for students, Roy Chavera, Mike Morrow, Keith Sullivan, and Barry Feriend.

Mr. Louis Schultz, math instructor, performed for pep rally.

Mrs. Susan Metz and Wendy Montieth watched drama production from the wings.

High School chorus performed for assembly program.

Art instructor, Mrs. Julia Smith, showed slides to her class.

The fine arts division of the high school, which includes drama, art, music, and choral groups, has doubled in size. These groups offered their members fellowships and an opportunity to broaden their understanding of fine arts, resulting in the development of understanding and appreciation for these curriculum additions.

Technique, knowledge and good taste were brought to these classes, and the students were enriched by association and leadership.

Students Appreciated Fine Arts Program

Band played for many programs during school activities. Mr. Edwin Emmons, Director, conducted the group here for special assembly.

Language Arts Proved Challenging

Spanish classes were under the guidance of Mrs. Iraida Martinez.

Southwest offered four years of English study as an integral part of each individual's education. From Early English literature to Nineteenth Century literature English served to sufficiently challenge students with past literature and the thought of writing something new.

Sue Markl and Kathy Saengerhausen of the paper staff watched in amusement as Mrs. Jennie Byrom, Advisor, relaxed for a moment.

Mrs. Dorothy Clements, English instructor, was certain of the need for study of grammar in her classes.

Assembly detail was only a small part of the extra-curricular activities Mrs. Teresa Green, English department instructor, engaged in for her students.

Business Education Helped Students Find Jobs

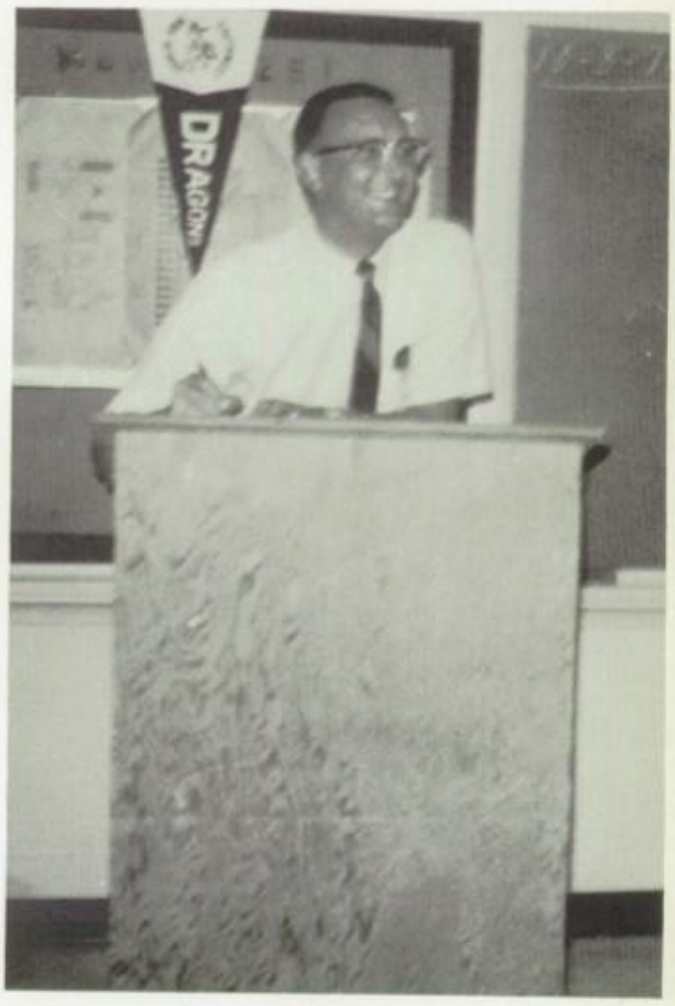
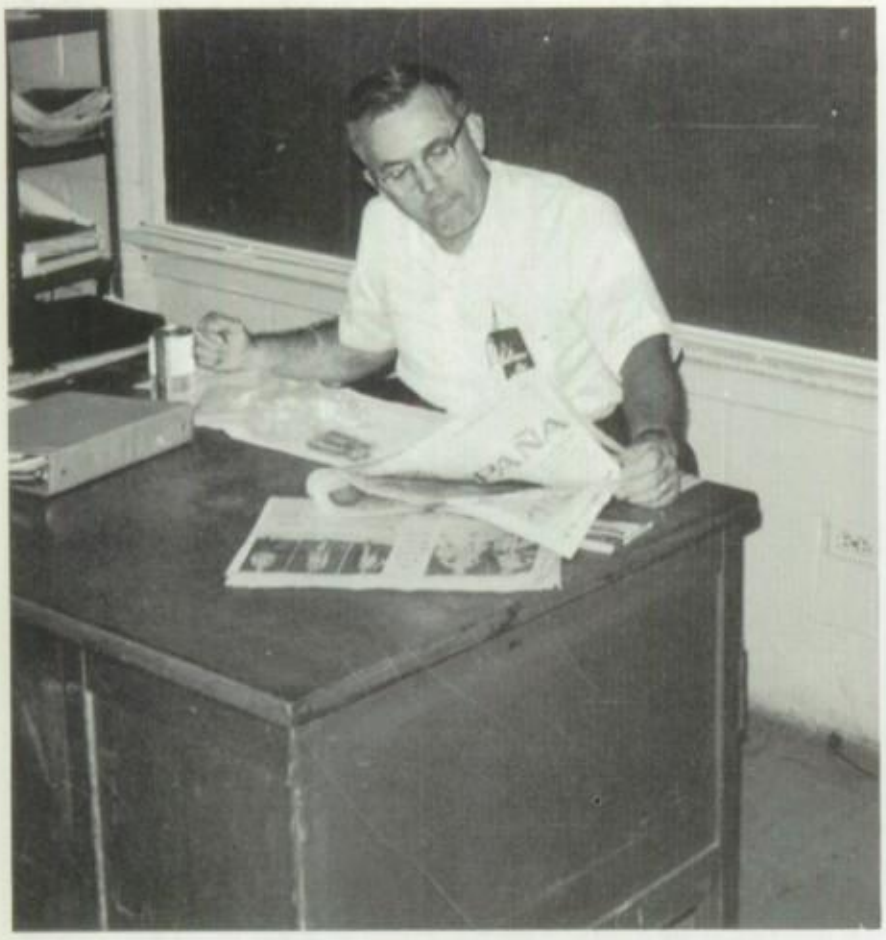
With the addition of new equipment, the Business Education department was better equipped to teach courses offered in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business math, and general business.

Students who entered UIL contests brought home second and third places to augment honors won in other departments of the school.

Students in DECA received support in finding jobs in the program sponsored by Mr. Frank Pease and Mr. Atkins.



Business instructor, Mr. Frederick Baker, taught typing, business math, and bookkeeping.



Mr. Franklin Smith, World History, required current events in learning about history making occurrences.

Sherry Wingate, George Carlin, Cheryl Daye, and Darlene Cotham listen attentively as Miss Barbara Delgman makes her point in American History class.

History Covered Broad Fields

Adoption of a new method of teaching in which students were allowed to read their own conclusions into the situation, after being presented sources and background materials for research, was initiated.

Teachers stimulated class discussion, and visitations served to fully educate seniors in the workings of a democracy.

Courses in government, advanced social science problems, and Texas History were also offered individuals interested in topical studies.

World History presented cultural and geographical development as to individual countries, and history in the making became a daily concern.

Col. A. D. Hall, Government, appeared before assembly to tell students how it was going to be done!

An outstanding student must maintain a good grade point average, and the committee's selection was based on each student's outstanding contribution to Southwest High School, scholarship, leadership, awards and honors received, and participation in school organizations and activities. The committee considered both the activities and the quality of the student's performance in the activity.

Change played a big part in this year's activities, from Homecoming to the Prom. The tradition of the reading of the Senior Class Will and the Junior Prophecies was broken when the Junior Class elected a queen and king from the Senior Class to take the place of former tradition. Elected by the popular vote of the Junior Class, Ann Smith and Bill McKinney were crowned as the highlight of the evening on May 8th at the Junior-Senior Prom by Willie Guidry.

Opening of District play on the home field of the Poteet Aggies brought about a four game winning streak for the Dragons. Everyone had a hand in the scoring of 26-8, revealing a long night for the Aggies. Second game in district play brought defeat for the Mighty Dragons as the Carrizo Springs Wildcats took advantage of Dragon mistakes. The come-back in the second half was not enough, and the first taste of defeat came on the Dragon's home field with a score of 26-16. This seemed to mark the pattern for the continuation of district play. As the Dragons ventured to Warhorse Stadium and met defeat for the second time in a row, the Devine Warhorses tallied 14 points to the Dragons 0.

Senior Candidate, Frances Riggs, Linda Sue Hernandez, Debbie Dockery, and Liz Crum, await the moment the choice for Homecoming Queen will be made public.

Homecoming for the 1970-71 season featured four senior candidates and representatives from each class. Homecoming festivities were introduced at the end of the first half. The highlight of the evening was brought into focus as the four selected candidates and three representatives accented the field on this formal occasion.

The original tradition was broken when this year's Homecoming Queen was selected by popular vote from the senior class, attended by representatives elected from other classes.

Linda Sue Hernandez, escorted by Roger Huizar, was crowned Queen for the 1970-71 football season.

The "Mighty Dragons," accompanied by the Cheerleaders, race through the Homecoming banner anxious to begin the game.

Athletics developed in high school have served to promote character development and self-control. The ambition of the freshmen of Southwest will bring progress in later years to the high school teams.

Although the baseball season wasn't a winning one, Southwest has a lot to look forward to next year when they will return a starter to each position.

Much could be expected from their very young pitching staff, comprised of players from the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes.

The 1971 track season was, without doubt, the best Southwest has had in its history. A number of school records were set, and the team was made up of many quality athletes, enabling them to capture 2nd Place, Varsity-wise, and First for the Junior Varsity at the District meet. The majority of the team was underclassmen, so the future looked bright for the track program.

Rodney Livingston was one of the top athletes to participate in track this year. He was the first athlete in our history to qualify for the State Meet, and set school records in the 100 yd. dash—9.8; 220 yd. dash—21.9; Broad Jump 21'10½"; High Jump 6'. For these reasons, he was voted the Most Outstanding Athlete on this year's track team.

Dramatists Chosen for All Star Cast

In November the Drama Department produced their first play, "The Brick and the Rose." It was a new approach in drama for Southwest. The play won the only superior rating at a festival held at Incarnate Word College.

With the easy jingle still echoing in the hallway, rehearsals were beginning for the UIL production of "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals." The medals were truly shown as they came home with third place and three acting awards.

Debbie Lovelace was honored with Best Actress; Claudia Kelly and Steve Mahaffey placed on the All Star cast.

Journalism embraced all phases of modern communication in addition to teaching basics of yearbook work. The Dragonniere earned an All-Texas Honor Rating from the Texas High School Press Association which met in Denton in December. A constant demand for pictures and copy kept staff members working diligently.

Sharlene DuBose and Bill McKinney were given the assignment of sports pages in the 1970-71 annual.

Parties at Christmas and during the Spring months kept members from going off into deep despair. Retakes of staff pictures gave staffers reason for going on. The first week in June ended their labors, and the final deadline brought relief from frustration and smiles of contentment to tired editors and staffers.

The yearbook was larger, more complete, and heralded the hectic delivery day set for September.

The Marching Dragon Band Majorettes proved to be good leaders and great supporters this year. They were able to serve, support and lead the band efficiently and perform exceptionally well. This year's twirlers consisted of two seniors, Eva Capps and Debbie Williams, one junior, Cleo Schrank—Head, two sophomores, Cindy Leppo and Lori Beam, and one freshman, Glenda Shadrock.

With knowledge in music and coordination of movement due to many hours of practice, these twirlers gave outstanding performances at pep rallies, football games, parades, and contests. They chose to back Southwest in all its undertakings. Their will and determination projected artistic sweetness through influential personalities.

With the help of the Dragon Cheerleaders the Majorettes for 1970-71 lead the Marching Dragon Band proudly in the Battle of Flowers Parade.

Providing Talent for Half-Time Spectaculars— The Southwest Marching Band

Endless hours of rehearsal were dedicated for the fifteen minutes of perfection during each football half-time. Winter brought yuletide activities, Spring UIL contests and band competition. The band was awarded 2 in Sight Reading and 4 in Marching.

The Poteet Strawberry Festival enabled the band to participate in a fun day of marching and eating shortcake. Parades held during the week of Fiesta celebration provided an opportunity for the Dragon Band to enter competition and march as a unit.

Parades which were included in band activities were held in Lytle, Somerset and the Rodeo Parade in San Antonio during the Stock Show. A concert was given at San Antonio State Hospital.

Stage Band Organized

The band organized its first complete stage band in SW history of organizations meant to supplement and enrich extra-curricular activities.

Providing fun and excitement for listeners was only part of the intent here in this band activity. Members in the band often played with regular dance bands all year for SW and other schools. It was hoped that a stage band would develop into a good entertainment feature for years to come.

Cleo Schrank, Ted Williams, Dean Meads and Rank Morgan enjoyed "jam" session.

These hard-working parents showed great interest in the band and contributed much to the promotion of the organization.

Officers for high school were: Mrs. Faye Schrank, President; Mrs. Pauline Lane, Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Dodson, Secretary; Mrs. Patricia Armstrong, Treasurer.

Cheerleaders Raise Dragon Spirit All Season

Kathy Lantz

There are little eyes upon you and they're watching night and day;
There are little ears that quickly take in every word you say;
There are little hands all eager to do anything you do;
And a little girl who's dreaming of the day she'll be like you.
You're the little girl's idol;
You're the wisest of the wise,
In her little mind about you no suspicions ever rise;
She believes in you devoutly,
Holds that all you say and do She will say and do, in your way when she's a grown-up like you.
There's a wide-eyed little girl who believes you're always right,
And her ears are always open, and she watches day and night;
You are setting an example every day in all you do,
For the little girl who's waiting to grow up to be like you.

Not Just a Group of Singers . . . But an Organization!

Music, sweet and gentle—school spirit is expressed in many ways. In a display of combined talents accumulated in the Southwest A Cappella Choir, talented, artistic creative people, under the direction of Mrs. Annelle Pinner, blended voices to inspire audiences wherever they went. Practice makes perfect was the code the choir members lived by as they rehearsed to achieve melodious tones. Hours of long labor and disheartening setbacks challenged their stability and determination, and, although the going was often slow, members kept at it and harmonious perfection was achieved.

In addition to concerts and assemblies, the choir participated in many extra events throughout the year. Dennis Keener, Junior, brought honor to the choir department this year by competing and winning in the district, regional and area TMEA contests. He was in direct competition with forty other baritones for this honor. Only four were chosen to represent Region XII in the State Contest.

The Auto Mechanics Department of Southwest High School is in its second year of operation in this district. The purpose of the shop is to train students to become good mechanics' helpers. Auto Mechanics is a two year course, three hours each day. Each student receives 1½ credits per semester, or 3 credits per school year.

In the shop the students learned shop management and the different types of tools and equipment used in the field of auto mechanics. Electrical wiring of an automobile, engine tune ups, brakes jobs, overhauls, and air condition maintenance are included in the curriculum taught in this department.

In this course the student had a chance to learn while he worked. It was a useful contribution to the future of a young man in the field of mechanics.

Mr. Palmire, Auto Mechanics' teacher, discussed automobile parts with Joel Goode and Howard Hirtz.

Distributive Education prepared students for work in the fields of retailing, wholesaling, and the service-selling industries. Cooperative DE students went to school half a day and received regular ratings from their bosses as well as grades from teachers. Subjects, such as marketing, selling, business math, letter writing, public speaking and psychology were explored extensively.

Many graduates of the DE program go on to become college graduates with majors in Business Administration, store managers, successful sales people, and buyers for large concerns. DECA, (Distributive Education Clubs of America), provided the DE student with opportunity for leadership development and recognition in his chosen career field.

Mr. Pease spoke on the history of D.E.C.A. at Southwest.

Provided Job Opportunities

Steve Kouns presented a certificate of appreciation to Mr. Acton for his help and guidance in DECA.

Horticulture: Wonderful World of Plants

Mr. Acton tried to show Diane Stull, Rhonda Livingston, Christy Lewis, Yolanda Chapa, and Cindy Schreiner that plants come in different types, color and styles.

Horticulture is nothing new for Albert Ludwig and Pat Tondre as they take samples to the front office.

Horticulture is in its third year at Southwest High School. The enrollment increases each semester.

Curriculum in horticulture classes consisted of working with plants, studying their growth, type, structures, needs, and usefulness.

Classes covered a two hour period of time, which earned students two credits. It was open to boys and girls. The first hour dealt with class discussion, and the second hour students experimented with plants in the greenhouse.

Material on horticulture caught the eye of homemaking girls who experienced a week in the world of plants. Mr. Acton looked on with interest.

F.F.A. depended on progressive officers: Mike Friesenhahn, Treasurer; Terry Field, Sentinel; Rita Buckaloo, Sweetheart; Theron Mund, President; Tony Talanco, Reporter; and Albert Ludwig, Secretary.

FFA Chose Southwest

Vocational Agriculture began at Southwest High in 1952. Since that time the FFA has grown in number and in scope.

This year the Southwest FFA had 105 members and was the third largest chapter out of ninety schools in Area VII.

Since Agriculture is the backbone of any country, the school felt that it was very essential that our students receive the best training possible at the high school level. Each FFA member was required to have a project of his or her choice, and many of the FFA members showed their prize animals and crops at major stock shows and won outstanding honors.

Selected for beauty and personality, Rita Buckaloo represented the FFA as their Sweetheart.

Members: Left to Right: Adam Saucedo, Willie Crisp, Charles Armstrong, Abel Ruiz, Claude McFarlin, Gordon Deskin, Mike Friesenhahn, Debbie Dockery, Mike Taylor, Eddie Jonas, David Gann, Carlos Solis, Richard Dockery, Tony Duron, Roy Niewierowski, Howard Dalros, James Snook, James Palm, Terry Lyons, Gabriel Montemayor, Gilbert Pereida, Ron Henry, Phil Sparkman, Herschel Postert, David Mann, Terry Field, Tony Salazar, Mike Verstuyf, Paul Gieser, George Carlin, Leland Sadler, Robert Wagenknecht, John Lindsey, Tony Gutierrez, Paul Prothero, Juan Hernandez, Theron Mund, Arthur Pue, Glenn Folsom, Tony Talanco, Gerard Martinez, Steve Lessing, Kenneth Kemple.

The judging contest consisted of a livestock team, meats team, dairy team, poultry team, and dairy products team, all of which competed in several contests all year over the state of Texas.

During class students were taught welding, oxyacetylene cutting, carpentry, land evaluation, range science, soil science, record book business management, and nutrition.

Our Trees and Shrubs Grow Better, Because They Are Better Grown

ALDRIDGE NURSERY, INC.

VON ORMY, TEXAS 78073

WE WISH TO EXTEND TO EACH GRADUATE OUR BEST WISHES FOR A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS FUTURE

TREES help supply oxygen we need to breathe. Yearly each acre of young trees can produce enough oxygen to keep 18 people alive...
TREES help keep our air supply fresh by using up carbon dioxide that we exhale and that factories and engines emit...
TREES use their hairy leaf surfaces to trap and filter out ash, dust, and pollen particles carried in the air...
TREES lower air temperatures by enlisting the sun's energy to evaporate water in the leaves...
TREES give us a constant supply of products..lumber for buildings and tools, cellulose for paper and fiber; as well as nuts, mulches, oils, gums, syrups, and fruits...
TREES shade us from direct sunlight better than any sombrero. They are welcome in parking lots on hot, sunny days...
TREES camouflage harsh scenery and unsightly city dumps, auto graveyards, and mine sites...
TREE leaves break the onslaught of pelting raindrops on the soil surface and give the soil a chance to soak up as much water as possible...
TREE leaves, by decaying, replace minerals in the soil and enrich it to support later plant growth...
TREE roots hold the soil and keep silt from washing into streams...
TREES increase the value of property... and TREES provide for America's beauty, economic growth and stability.

National School Yearbook Association

TEXAS HIGH SCHOOL PRESS ASSOCIATION

Quill and Scroll

International Honorary Society for High School Journalists

This edition of the DRAGONNIERE can be looked upon in future years with fond reflection for the year, 1970-71. As many have said, high school covers the greatest part of any student's life. This statement may be challenged by some, but for all of us here at Southwest, it has been a full, poignant year with good memories. It was a year of transition for us—our last year on the old campus before moving to the newer school.

Whether looking back at '70-'71 with fondness, or sometimes with remorse, the annual will hold a special place in the hearts of our staff who played a major part in the production of this book.

We salute our co-workers and look to the future with hope and a desire to make these remembrances lasting with deep significance.
